

Carnival helps beat the February blues

Familiar events and some new ones drew spectators and participants

Combined with cooperative weather and an increased amount of snow over last week, the 1980 version of the Haliburton Winter Carnival took the February doldrums out of young and old alike.

Merchants in and around Haliburton Village were busy throughout the weekend as hundreds of tourists, cottagers and local residents sought to take part in the several activities held throughout the weekend.

Things got underway Friday afternoon with the judging of ice sculptures and the merchant displays throughout the village. There were very few ice sculptures entered this year, though the quality was very high, as Len Page of Eagle Lake won first prize for his piece entitled 'Death and the Sculpture'. Winner of the merchant window award was Varty's Jewellers.

The Rail's End Station Gallery opened its doors at 4 p.m. to show off the many fine works on display and for sale by the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts. The station remained open for much of the weekend, giving visitors a chance to look over the newly renovated structure.

Several rinks from both the immediate area and from outside of the community took to the ice at the Haliburton Curling Club Friday at 4 p.m., as the annual Hiram Walker Mixed Bonspiel got underway. High three game winners were a local rink this year, as Scott LaRue, his wife, Emily, Jim Scheffee and wife Arlene had 55 points.

Two game winners included the rink of Raymond Scott of Haliburton, wife Bernice, Alex Millar and wife Bev, both of Minden. Randy Collier's rink of Doris Winter, Wayne Ellison and Kim Roberts were the one-game winners.

At 7 p.m., the center of attention was the ball diamond at the community centre, with the Haliburton Fire Department igniting a giant bonfire to keep participants free of the cold. Under the lights of the ball diamond, teams from each of the service clubs in the village competed at the first ball hockey tournament held in conjunction with the winter carnival. A large number of spectators gathered at the outdoor rink for what proved to be an exciting tourney. In the end, a group from the high school defeated the Kinsmen Club to take top honours.

Activities continued when a torchlight parade from the high school headed across Head Lake to the arena. The snowmobilers wove back and forth on the ice surface to create a serpent-like illusion, much to the delight of on-lookers on shore.

The Haliburton Chalkdusters tournament got underway Friday evening, and a teen- dance was held at the high school. Here, the crowning of throughout Saturday, and the Haliburton Highlands Cross Country Ski Club conducted tours around local trails from the Rail's End Gallery throughout the afternoon. As well, helicopter rides and free horse sleigh rides kept carnival goers busy.

The hungry were appeased at the carnival luncheon at the Anglican Church, as well as the Eastern Star luncheon held at the Curry Motors Showroom.

The highlight of the day

Victoria Street School, free skating at the ball diamond, and a big carnival dance at the Legion. Peter Brady of Toronto was the winner of the weekend for two in Toronto, organized by the Rotary Club.

Sunday, the closing day of the carnival, proved to be popular as timed truck races, and ever-popular snowmobile oval races drew hundreds to the Head Lake ice track. The four-wheel drive races against the clock drew 10 entries, while the oval races drew 49.

the carnival queen took place. This year's winner was Tammy Dewey, who, along with princesses Helen Hellequist and Nina Anderson, presided over the weekend events. The princesses each received $50, while the queen received $100.

The big day of the carnival, Saturday, started out with a trapper's breakfast at the Legion, and organizers reported that the number of people attending was up slightly.

The Hiram Walker bonspiel and the Chalkdusters tournament continued on came at about 2 p.m., when the Kinsmen snowmobile drags got underway at Head Lake. There were over 70 entries competing in nine classes, and the competition held spectators' interest throughout the afternoon.

Tea-off time for Sno-golf was 1:30 to 4 p.m., and the event proved to be an entertaining and amusing one for those who took part. When the clubs stopped flailing in the snow on Head Lake, John Wilson of Haliburton was the winner.

The day was rounded out with Crazy Carpet rides at Final judging for the fish derby took place, with G. Draper of R.R. 2, Haliburton taking first with his nine pound, 10 ounce lake trout, caught in Maple Lake. Second spot was picked up by Allan Hartwick of R.R. 1, Minden, who hauled out a nine pound, four ounce lake trout from Big Bob Lake. Adrian Lee of Norland latched onto a four pound, two ounce whitefish on Gull Lake to take third prize.

Minden curling club gets site for rink now needs funds

A new curling club for Minden moved a small step closer to reality last week when council and representatives of the building committee sat down to hammer out a basic approach to the project.

At the core of the discussions was the question of where the new facility would be built, and how much council would be willing to contribute toward it.

A solution to the first problem was easy to find, but the matter of funding proved a little thornier.

Building committee chairman Godfrey Saunders told council the group wanted to build the new club beside the community centre. He said preliminary examination of the site did not reveal any major problems with the existing tile bed or holding tanks for the arena building.

Council was quick to approve the proposed site, and agreed to make the land available at no cost.

The question of funding for the project was more difficult however, because council is determined not to use taxpayers money to see the project completed.

Saunders said the club would "not feel right asking taxpayers to pay" for the new

Hydro seeks amendment

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is awaiting advice from its solicitor on the position it should take toward an Ontario Hydro request for an amendment to the municipality's restricted area by-law 79-43.

Officer assaulted, Acton man charged

A 19-year old RR #2, Acton man has been charged with assaulting a police officer following an incident in Haliburton Village Saturday night.

The victim, Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis, had checked a vehicle with five occupants and charged one of them with a liquor violation. An altercation broke out on the scene, Jarvis was on the ground behind the vehicle, and had sustained minor injuries to his face and neck. George Robert Forbes, 19 of RR #2, Acton was taken into custody and later charged with assaulting a police officer.

Forbes is scheduled to appear in provincial court in Minden, April 8.

construction or line relocation projects even if the provinces Environmental Assessment Board has already granted its approval. Hydro believes the procedure wastes time and could hold up projects unnecessarily. It wants council to amend section 8.10 to make municipal approval automatic after approval under the Environmental Assessment Act.

But council wants to retain some control over Hydro projects if it can, and wants to ensure that ratepayers have ample opportunity to voice objections to Hydro proposals.

The matter is complicated by proposed changes to the provincial Planning Act which would take the power to block Hydro projects, even temporarily, away from municipal councils.

John McDermott, senior planner with Totten, Sims, Hubicki Associates Limited, and principal author of the county's Planning Strategy document, outlined a number of the complications surrounding the Hydro request in a letter to council which was read at a meeting last Wednesday.

McDermott said any major work Hydro proposes is subject to the provisions of the Environmental Assessment

Ministry wants dump site closed council pushes for compromise

Anson, Hindon and Minden council seems determined to find a way to keep the Scotch Line dump open, despite the fact that the Ministry of the Environment wants it closed.

The site has been a source of headaches for council for at least two years. It has been plagued with fires, and ratepayers in the vicinity have complained repeatedly about the smoke and smell.

At a meeting last Wednesday, council learned that the Ministry of the Environment wants the site shut down as soon as an alternate location can be found.

In a letter to council, Environment Minister Harry Parrott said the municipality was told in October, 1978, that the dump could be used as long as management measures were implemented. In September, 1979, however, the Ministry noted that "problems were still being encountered with fires and the time was ripe for the municipality to select a new site."

Parrott said the Ministry has received "several calls... with regard to recent fires" at the site north west of Minden.

Incumbent 'disappointed' with national results

Scott wins riding for PC's Liberals, NDP make gains

by Joe Banks

Though the rest of the country voted in a Liberal majority government Monday evening, the riding of Victoria-Haliburton resoundingly supported Progressive Conservative incumbent Bill Scott for another term.

Scott defeated his nearest rival, Liberal candidate Ivan Rodd by over 8,000 votes, but lost 6,000 from his total in the last election. Last year, there was a spread of 14,620 votes between Scott and Liberal candidate David Logan. Monday's totals showed Scott with 20,634 votes, while Rodd polled 12,578.

In fact the Conservatives were the only party to lose ground in the riding. Patrick Daniel, NDP hopeful, picked up 9,054 votes this time around, compared to 6,052 last May. Libertarian candidate John Hayes had 375 votes compared to 100 in the last election.

A total of 42,641 people voted in the riding, or 67 percent of the total electorate.

As the figures indicating a Liberal majority decision came into Progressive Conservative campaign headquarters in Lindsay Monday night, Scott granted several interviews with reporters, and commented on both the local and national situations.

He said he was "very happy" with the local results, and added that the campaign itself was "run very cleanly in relation to others in the past". Scott admitted that he was "very disappointed" in the national results.

"I thought we'd come out better in Western Canada," he said, "but I'm not surprised at Quebec". There, the Liberals captured every seat except one.

Asked if losing his position as assistant deputy speaker and returning as an opposition member in the House would hinder his chances in obtaining DREE for the area, Scott said it could have a slight influence, but not significant enough to stop the process completely. "We made quite a bit of progress, and I hope it will continue in light of DREE recognition."

Scott said his work load was equally as heavy as members on both sides of the House, and his return to opposition, he said, "will allow me more time for constituency work."

Scott later said that the MOE representative holds out little hope of funds

Council wants sewer extended

Anson, Hindon and Minden council faces an uphill battle in its determination to have the sanitary sewer line along the Minden by-pass extended.

The line now ends at the Brown Owl restaurant, but council wants to see it extended south at least as far as the Ontario Provincial Police detachment building. And at a meeting last Wednesday, council questioned representatives of the Ministry of the Environment about funding for the project.

Ministry spokesman Frank Rheinholz said funding would come from one of two programs. The first is intended to promote growth, and provides up to 16 2/3 percent of the total cost of main trunk lines but not of laterals. The other, known as an "upfront grant" pays up to 75 percent of the cost of sewer construction, but only to municipalities with serious pollution problems. Under both programs, a municipality must carry out preliminary engineering studies before the Ministry will consider a request for funding. If a grant is received, however, the cost of the engineering study is included in the total project cost for funding purposes.

Rheinholz would not predict whether or not the municipality could qualify for a grant under either program, but he did say that if no pollution problem was demonstrated, the chances of an "upfront grant" were "very, very slim."

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt told the Ministry official that the extension is "very important to the municipality" because properties on the by-pass would have a better chance of selling if they were serviced by sewers.

"Let's face it," Nesbitt said, "There's a chance there for immediate growth."

Nesbitt said the extension had been considered when the sewers were planned, but was refused when contracts for the construction were awarded. He said an engineering study for the extension could cost "$40,000 if we have to start over" and that the cost might be reduced if the Ministry was willing to proceed on the

Snowarama goes Sunday after three week delay

The annual Snowarama ride for crippled children will be held this Sunday.

Originally scheduled for February 3, the event had to be rescheduled because of poor snow conditions along the 100 mile route of the ride.

Conditions on some trails are still less than ideal, but organizers say an alternate route will be used this Sunday that will take riders along county lakes for a good deal of the distance.

Registration for the ride will take place between 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Riders may leave either from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School or from the Minden Community Centre.

Free lunch will be served to riders at both locations, and free gasoline and oil will also be available to participants at both starting points.

The route includes Kashagawigamog, Canning, Mountain, Twelve Mile, Boshkung, Halls, Little Hawk, Kennis and Redstone, and a number of other lakes and trails returning riders to the starting point in Haliburton or Minden.

Organizers are hoping for a good turnout for this year's ride, despite the altered date.

Last year's Haliburton County Snowarama raised close to $18,000 for the province's crippled children.

Major portion of the proceeds from the local ride will be directed toward the Five Counties Treatment Centre in Peterborough, which serves the needs of children from this area.

governmental help for the small businessman.

In relation to comments made about his speaking record in the House of Commons by other candidates, Scott denied that he spoke as few times as was suggested. When asked about the issues he discussed in the House pertaining to the riding, he stated that "I have to serve on a national basis - I cannot raise local issues while Parliament is in session."

Ivan Rodd made his way to Scott's headquarters later in the evening, to congratulate the MP on his victory, and for maintaining "a well run campaign."

Rodd, who entered federal politics for the first time this year, said "it was nice to travel from one length of the riding to the other. I have enjoyed the campaign very much, and I now that he (Scott) is going to discharge the job to the best of his ability."

In response to the congratulatory remarks, Scott said the party "was very pleased" with the fashion in which the campaign was run, and that all the candidates "got along very well."

Patrick Daniel arrived at the headquarters about an hour later, and also congratulated Scott on his victory. "When we take part in an election, we recognize that the results of the vote are the decisions of the voter," he told the gathering. "Despite the skirmishes we've had, I think all of us realize how important the election process is. Now that Bill Scott has been re-elected, we wish him well."

Daniel later said in an interview that he was "extremely pleased" with the significant increase in the number of votes he received in this election, but added that he had to give "most of the credit" to the national campaign conducted under Ed Broadbent. "I think the people respected the fact that he avoided personal attack," Daniel stated.

He also attributed the increase in local popular vote to the increased familiarity voters have had with him in this election. "I think people just got to know me more, and were more willing to look at my merits."

Asked if he was personally disappointed with the showing, Daniel admitted that candidates "always go into an election hoping to win," and pointed out that "you can't change tradition in one or two elections."

In the last election, the NDP party won one poll in the riding, compared to 14 this year.

Curlers get site, need funds pointed out, that council might get flack" from ratepayers if it sold off land acquired for parkland purposes.

Committee spokesman Jim Garbutt said he doubted ratepayers would object, however, because the curling club will be part of an existing park.

"If we come up with an overall mortgage of $30,000 or $40,000 after we get our funding from Wintario, and from fund raising, this is where we thought of the cottage lot money," Garbutt said, adding that the same conditions might apply to the new library.

Nesbitt stood firm on keeping tax revenue out of the building project. "We won't raise taxes to build a curling club," he said.

He was also reluctant to put a dollar figure on the amount council might consider raising from cottage lot sales or other sources. But he left open the possibility that the club could come back to council for some kind of help once the building is up and in operation.

Councillor Lyle McKnight supported the reeve's stand that no dollar figure could be put on council's support. He said that if council committed a specific amount, it might have a detrimental effect on the club's fund raising efforts.

But Saunders disagreed. "I don't think that will be a problem, because we're going to be short anyway," he said, "so we're going to have to raise as much money as we can."

Council also noted that the curling club project had "second priority" after the library facility, which the municipality has already agreed to help finance.

Council's responses will be forwarded to Nicol and Johnston, architects, who have been commissioned by the curling club to do a feasibility study for the proposed club.

Arson is suspected in a fire which destroyed a cottage on Little Hawk Lake last Wednesday.

Stanhope firemen were called to the scene of the blaze at about noon, but were unable to save the cottage, owned by Eunice Gladys Foster of RR #1, Kirkfield.

Police say two persons were seen in the immediate area of the cottage, located on the narrows between Little Hawk and Big Hawk Lakes, and left the area quickly. The two loaded a snowmobile into a van at Little Hawk landing and left "in great haste" according to police.

Damage to the cottage and contents was estimated at $13,000.

basis of studies done for the original project.

While Rheinholz appeared to hold little hope for the upfront grant on the by-pass extension, he said the fact that the line might help promote growth could make the project eligible for up to 16 1/2 percent funding.

Also of concern to council is a number of residential lots on North Water Street to which there is no sewer line.

Rheinholz agreed to meet with council and health inspectors on the site to determine if there was a pollution problem in the area and thus an opportunity for a grant of up to 75 percent for an extension.

The weather this week

The following weather information, provided by the area climatologist, covers the period of February 11 through February 18.

Snowfall during the period varied between 10 and 15 cm. in Haliburton County. Snow depths are now 25 to 35 cm.

Highest temperature recorded during the period was -2 C., and the lowest temperature was -31 C. Frost penetration remains unchanged at 18 inches.

Ice on area lakes is now up to 26 inches deep. A drop in lake levels has left water well below the ice on some lakes, creating a potential collapse hazard to snowmobilers and others travelling on the surface of lakes, especially near shorelines. Stop logs are being placed in Trent Severn waterway dams to keep lake levels up in anticipation of a reduced spring runoff this year.

Cross country ski trails are in improved condition as a result of recent snow accumulation, although skiing is generally better beside prepared trails than on them. Good skiing can be found at the Frost Centre south of Dorset, and at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve.

The Jim Beef trail near Haliburton Village is also considered to be in good condition.

Request for streetlights on 121 meets with support, opposition

Ratepayers demand for streetlights on Highway 121 east of the Minden by-pass met with support, opposition and something in between at a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday.

Supporting the request was councillor Len Lonsberry, who said a real danger was presented by cars backing out onto the unlighted roadway at night.

Opposed to it was councillor Stuart Brandon, who felt yielding could lead to a similar measure for services from groups of ratepayers throughout the municipality.

And sitting in the middle was the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, which said in a letter that it would not pay to install and maintain the lights, but that it could not object if council opted to do so.

MTC official R.G. Matthews, in a letter replying to council's request for information about cost sharing said the Ministry uses guidelines "to determine locations where illumination can be justified on some priority basis."

"The section of Highway 121 easterly does not meet these guidelines, and as the cost and benefit of installing illumination is not in sound economic balance, lighting could not be provided at our cost," He noted, however, that the municipality could install lights in the area if it was prepared to pay all of the costs involved.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt asked Lonsberry if he felt strongly about the ratepayers request for lights. "You don't think maybe we should quit running lights all over the country?" he queried. "I think it's pretty important" Lonsberry replied.

But Brandon was quick to point out what he saw as a pitfall in bowing to a demand for lights by a small group of ratepayers in a rural residential area.

"Are we going to install lights wherever we get pockets of development?" Brandon asked. "Maybe what we should do before we put lights there, is decide whether we're going to light any cluster of six homes anywhere in the municipality."

Lonsberry felt the situation along Highway 121 was different than in other areas where homes have been built along municipal roads, however. He pointed to the danger presented by the volume of traffic on the highway, and by the hills and curves just east of Minden which add to the hazard of driveways entering the roadway.

Reeve Nesbitt urged council to consider the precedent it might set if it approved the lights without a formal policy.

"I think you have to think about Stuart's argument," he said, noting that every ratepayer in the municipality would contribute to the cost of installing and maintaining the lights on Highway 121.

Central to the discussion, Brandon felt, was a question of the municipality's responsibility to provide services to ratepayers outside townships.

"If you live outside a township, can you expect the services townships receive?" he asked. "If you want street lights and other services available in a township, then you live in a township."

Brandon equated the situation to that of people "who move in near a dump and then bitch because there's a dump there." "What we're into," he said "is people who have picked a bad location and then want council to compensate them for it."

Council made no formal decision on the request for lights, but indicated it would consider it again when more was known about the relocation of poles in anticipation of resurfacing of Highway 121 scheduled for 1981.

MOE presses for new dump

cause the site operation seemed to be reasonably good, we can only conclude that either someone is starting the fires deliberately or hot waste ashes are being deposited at the site."

The environment minister said the discomfort of nearby residents "cannot continue", and asked to be informed about the action council would take to "prevent fires at the site... and to select a new site to serve the municipality."

Ministry spokesman Frank Rheinholz, who was present at the meeting, told council that funds were available to help defray the cost of closing up and restoring the old site, but that the cost of finding and developing an alternate landfill location would have to be borne by the municipality.

He added, however, that if a county wide study was undertaken to find acceptable sites as part of a long term program, the Ministry would help fund it.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt sought a compromise on the Scotch Line problem, noting that no alternate site was apparent. He asked if the Ministry would help fund a program to fence the site, hire a full time manager and cover the refuse regularly.

The municipality needs to find "someone very capable" to manage the site, Nesbitt said. "We're thinking of taking a whole fresh look at how we operate the place. It's a terrific site and location if we can just control the fires."

Rheinholz replied that the Ministry might make funding available "if the township comes up with a fair program" to ease the problems.

"Well, we just don't have any choice," Nesbitt said. "There is not another place that handy, or that's as good as that site, but it's going to have to be controlled."

As a long term solution, Nesbitt supported the need for a county wide study. He said fires are a problem at dump sites in every municipality, and that sites were limited because of the large amount of crown land in the county.

Rheinholz agreed that a county wide study would be an important step. He noted that as the area continues to develop, the pressure on existing solid waste sites will increase.

A second, potentially more serious complication with the Scotch Line site is the "leechate" or liquid which runs out of the waste material as it decomposes. At the moment, Rheinholz said, the Ministry is not certain where the leechate from the Scotch Line dump is going. If studies indicate a pollution problem, the site will have to be closed quickly, he said.

Council agreed to push for a county wide study. It will also meet with Ministry representatives at the Scotch Line site to discuss a management program that would allow it to remain open for the immediate future.

Oval track sprint

The ice track on Head Lake was the scene of the oval track races on Sunday. Local and out-of-town drivers, totalling 10 entries altogether, wheeled around the half-mile track in an effort to beat the clock. Competitors had to go around the track in the fastest time to eliminate other drivers.

When all the flying snow cleared, Sid Stamp in his big Chevrolet took the eight-cylinder long-stock class, and Wayne Parnell came in second with his Ford.

In the eight-cylinder short-stock event, John Mainville came up with the fastest time riding his International Scout. Brad Cline wasn't as fast, but took second spot with his Scout.

Despite a fast and smooth track, there were no accidents during the competitions, though some competitors had problems taking the corners and stopping after crossing the finish line.

Snowmobile drags
draw 74 entries

Snowy weather and relatively mild temperatures attracted a large crowd to the popular snowmobile drag races held on Head Lake Saturday afternoon. The event was reinstituted this year after organizers cancelled the running of the drags last year. The move appeared to be a wise one, as 74 entries raced in pairs on an eighth of a mile strip of ice. Many of the competitors also raced in the oval competitions Sunday afternoon.

Two years ago, racers challenged the clock. But this year, the snowmobiles raced side by side, with eliminations in each class.

In the 400 fan stock class, John Kajmowicz of Oshawa raced his way to first position, while Henry Tanner of Grand Valley placed second on a Yamaha. Derek Vessey of Oshawa placed first in the 440 fan stock with his Moto-Ski and Dan Brown of Port Perry was second with his Polaris.

Mike Wood of Peterborough took the 400 forced-air stock class in his Polaris, and Henry Tanner of Grand Valley ended up second on his Yamaha. Gary Linton of Port Perry picked up the 440 forced-air class on his Yamaha, with Randy St. Jean of Peterborough placing second with his Moto-Ski.

In the liquid stocks, Henry Tanner of Grand Valley raced his Yamaha to first place in the 400 class while Bill Eggleton of Peterborough took second in his Moto-Ski. Bob Switzer's big 440 liquid stock Polaris helped him take first, while Bill Tripp came second on his Yamaha. Both men are from Port Perry.

An Oshawa man, Doug Carriere, took the 300 c.c. modified class on a Mercury, while a local, Ed Heard of Haliburton came away in second place with his Arctic Cat. Dave Taylor succeeded in winning the 400 modified class with his Polaris, while Doug Carriere placed second on his Mercury.

Henry Tanner grabbed another first sport in the 440 modified competitions with his Yamaha, and Tom St. Jean of Peterborough was second on his Ski-doo.

Teachers team takes consolation trophy

A local squad consisting of Haliburton teachers took the consolation championship at the annual Chalkduster's tournament held during carnival weekend.

The tournament, which uses oldtime rules, proved to be highly successful, as 16 teams competed for prizes and trophies.

Belleville was the championship winner of the tournament, after defeating Uxbridge in a close 2 to 1 decision.

Gary Brohman proved to be the Chalkduster's boon in the final game against Lindsay, as he scored the only two goals of the game that won Haliburton the consolation. Ron Perrin, the Chalkduster's goaltender who shut-out the Lindsay team, played a strong series.

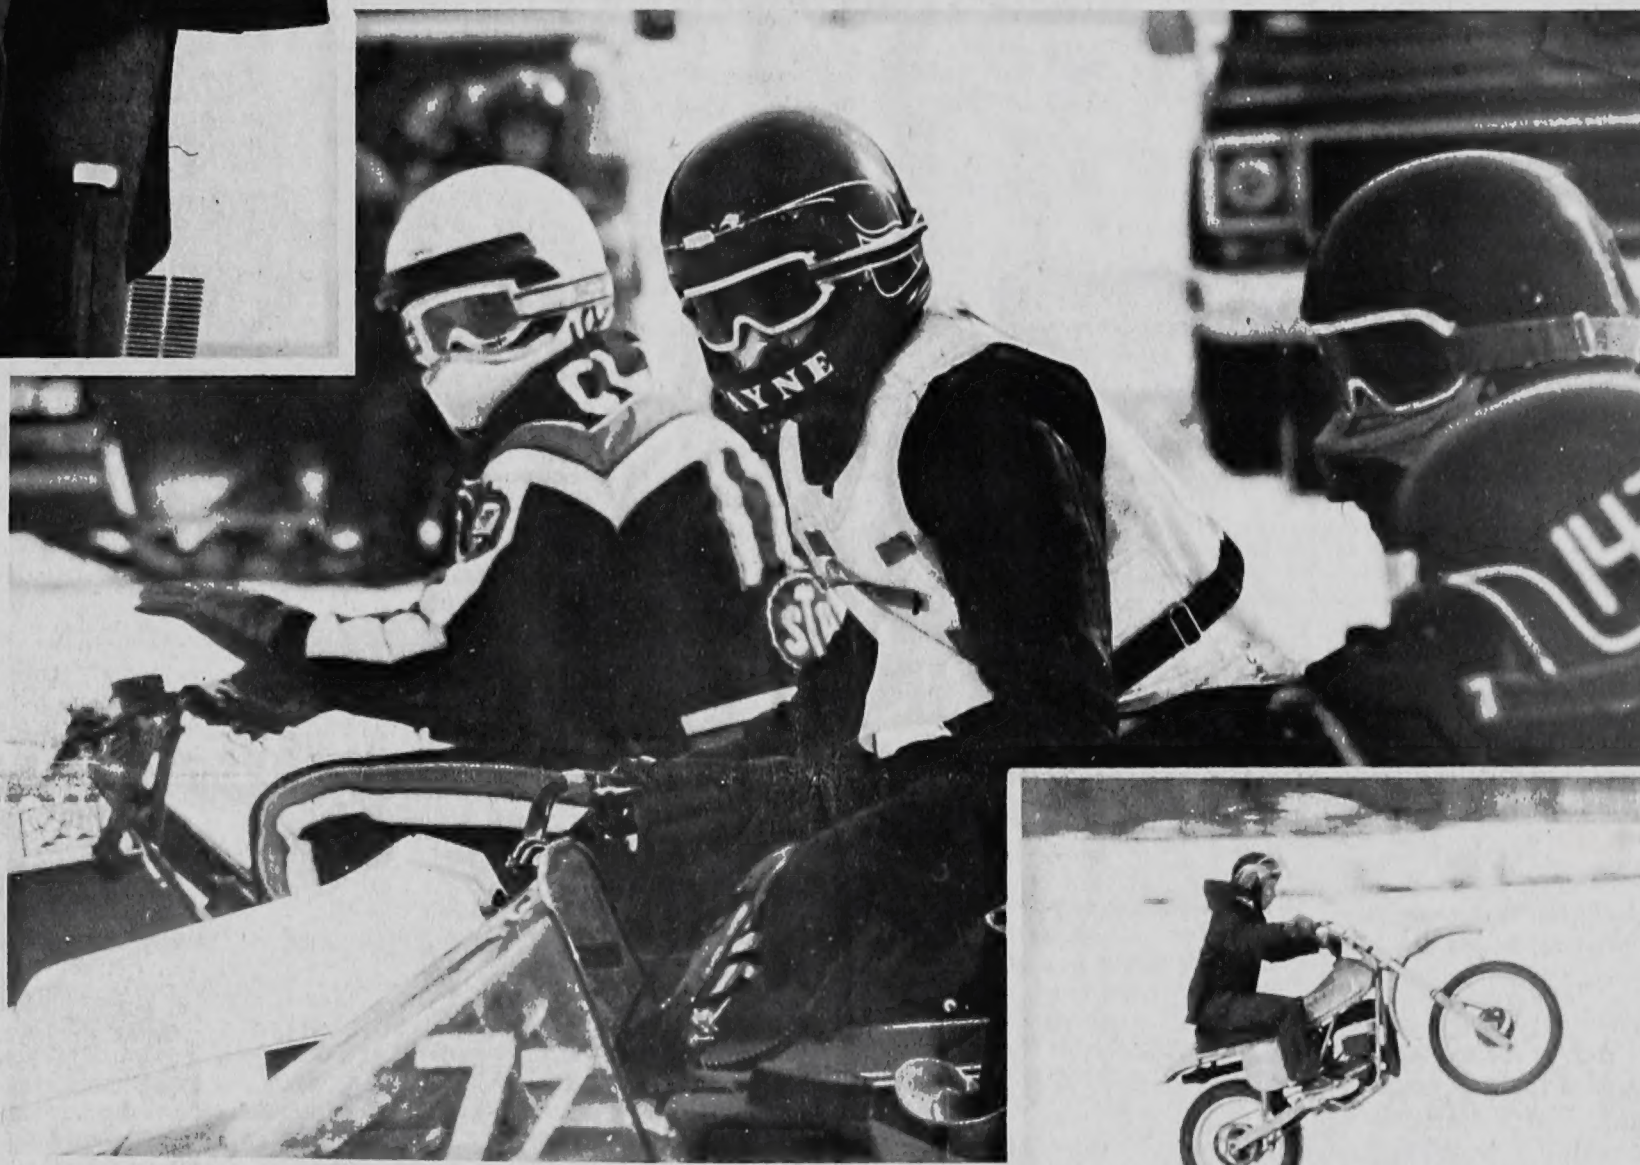

In the semi-final consolation,

Lindsay took out Perth by a score of 6 to 1, while the Chalkdusters eliminated Oakville 2 to 1. On the championship side, Uxbridge beat Owen Sound 4 to 1 and Belleville defeated the Haliburton Chalkdusters number two team 3 to 1.

Tournament organizer Brohman said the whole weekend went "very smoothly" and that many of the competitors are looking forward to competing next year. "All of the teams want to come back," he said.

The players on the winning teams each received a leather key case plus trophies, while the losers received key rings plus trophies.

All money generated by the tournament will be donated to the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association.

Snowmobile races drew hundreds

The screaming sound of small-bore engines filled the ears of spectators on Head Lake Sunday afternoon, as the half-mile oval races got underway.

There was some exciting competition during the event, and with close to 50 entries taking part, it provided spectators with a full afternoon of action.

A Haliburton man, Peter Connelly, won in the 300 fan stock class with his Yamaha, while Norm Writviter of Bowmanville came second on a Yamaha as well.

Henry Tanner, who was the overall points champion with 25, took the 400 fan stock race with his Yamaha, with Kent Lester of Hamilton grabbing second on a similar machine.

Yamaha's dominated the 440 fan stock class, with Tanner taking first and Vince Hammond of Haliburton taking second.

Haliburton's Peter Connelly, who was second in the points race with 10, took the 300 forced-air stock class with Norm Writviter taking second. Both men ran Yamahas.

But Wayne Harnden of Grafton took the 400 forced-air stock class with his Ski-doo, while Eldon Wallis of Orillia placed second with his Sno-Jet. Harnden also won the 440 forced-air stock class, as well as tying with Connelly for second in the points race, with Dave Taylor of Port Perry taking second riding a Polaris.

Tanner took first place in the next two classes, both in the 400 liquid stock and 440 liquid stock, with Eldon Wallis and Rob Hildridge of Bowmanville taking second places respectively in those classes.

A Kingston man, Joe Clarke, was first in the 400 modified class on his Arctic Cat, with Bill Day of Harrowsmith placing second on his Kawasaki.

Tom St. Jean dominated the 440 modified class with his Ski-doo, with Eldon Wallis placing second riding a Mercury.

In the highly entertaining open modified class, Tanner took first in his Yamaha, with St. Jean placing second on his Ski-doo and Bill Day placing third on his Kawasaki.

A new spirit

The bustle and excitement of this year's Haliburton Winter Carnival have faded into memory. The ice track is silent now, its outline ghostly under a layer of freshly fallen snow. The crowds that lined the shore of Head Lake for two days are gone, and the din of spectators no longer echos through the arena. And as the relative calm and order of late February return once more to Haliburton Village, the time has come to look back on the events that were the carnival.

Overall, this year's carnival was a success. The torchlight parade was improved, travelling a route along Head Lake and through the Village. The events at the arena grounds Friday night drew larger crowds than in past years, and the ball hockey tournament was an entertaining diversion.

To no one's surprise, the Kinsmen club came through once more with a well organized and smoothly run weekend of snowmobile and truck races, packing the shores of Head Lake with people and providing some solid hours of entertainment.

The Chalkdusters hockey tournament brought a number of out-of-town teams into the area, boosting the local economy, and the Hiram Walker Spiel did the same, although a number of local rinks also participated.

Having said that the events went well however, it is also essential to recognize that interest in the carnival has faded over the course of its 12 year history. Those who remember its beginnings are quick to point out that a spirit pervaded the village then, that seems lacking now. The people who work on the carnival do an admirable job, and deserve the support and thanks of those who do not, but if that spirit of earlier carnivals is to be recaptured, the community must be persuaded to take a more active part in organizing the weekend.

Haliburton's Rotary Club has long taken on the task of organizing the bulk of the carnival. It's a thankless job, but they have kept at it over the years, building up a considerable body of experience. Now the time has come for the responsibility to organize the carnival to be delegated to groups that have not taken an active part before. Working together, service clubs, community groups, the municipality, schools and interested citizens should be able to infuse a new spirit into the carnival, and to make it an even bigger and better event.

No doubt there would be complications in trying to expand the carnival. It is likely that a weekend of events planned and supervised by diverse groups would have more than a few wrinkles in its first year. But all could be smoothed out the second time around, and the community would have more to enjoy as a result.

There is nothing wrong with the carnival in its present form. But in a community which prides itself on looking ahead, the carnival should be growing and expanding. With more events in which people could participate, and with more to see and do, Haliburton's Winter carnival just might become the major tourist attraction those who originated the carnival hoped it would be.

The carnival is for the community. The time has come for the community to do its share.

Study a must

Anson, Hindon and Minden council faces a serious problem if it hopes to keep its Scotch Line dump site open. Fires at the site are frequent, and neighbours complaints have reached the attention of the province's Minister of the Environment, Harry Parrott. Now, council has been told it must find and develop a new site, and that in the meantime, it will have to pay careful attention to the management of the Scotch Line dump.

Complicating the issue is the Ministry's policy on landfill sites. While the provincial agency will help pay the cost of restoring the dump once it is closed, it will not contribute funds to develop a new site.

The situation near Minden is serious, but it is by no means unique. Dumps across the country burn regularly, despite municipalities' efforts to control them. Many of the sites are in less than ideal condition, and despite regular monitoring by Environment Ministry Authorities, open landfill sites are a real pollution risk.

The long term solution to dump problems may well be a container system, recycling of useable material, and incineration to capture useable energy. In the meantime, however, Haliburton County council has the option of calling for a county wide study to identify sites to turn to when problems similar to those near Minden force the closure of other sites.

The Ministry of the Environment has said it would help fund such a study. The idea should be supported at the county level, not only for the benefit of ratepayers who live near the Scotch Line site, but for the good of all county ratepayers, whose right to a clean environment is threatened by the problems that continue to plague rural dump sites.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to support Reeve Nesbitt's proposal to eliminate the wolf bounty. I think the wolf has been badly maligned. The harm it does has been greatly exaggerated. A couple of letters condemning the idea have been almost hysterical in nature but surely this fear is largely unfounded.

Of course the only way to settle the argument is to eliminate the wolf bounty on an experimental basis for five to ten years and allow the Ministry of Natural Resources to scientifically determine the effects. I am confident that the enemies of the wolf will be proven wrong.

It is time that man begins to examine his destructive ways and begins to seek ways of living in harmony with nature. Unless we dramatically change our lifestyle, not only the wolf but hundreds of other species including man himself, may be doomed to extinction. We can no longer rely on what worked in the past because the balance is now too fragile due, of course, to our careless and destructive ways. Let us change directions now before it is too late.

Yours truly,
David Fillmore,
Toronto, Ontario

To the Editor:

I am writing in reply to Mr. Smiley and Mrs. Claudia Say.

I think they should take a closer look at the whole matter. Our Saviour could not please the people when he was on earth. People are too greedy and want too much. I don't think any government can clean up the mess people have made of this earth. They are so blind they want everything handed to them. Our forefathers had to work hard for what we have got. So please stop tearing others to pieces. You are only as big as the way you treat your fellow men.

Gossip is so ugly and unbecoming to man. Let us all get together and work for the good of our country and include God. Otherwise it won't work for anyone. I think it will be worse before it's better. Give a little more kindness and not so much criticizing. It will make you a lot happier.

I don't like the way the government men have promised things and then don't fulfill them, but I don't think ridicule does any good; it only belittles us. Maybe you, Mr. Smiley and Mrs. Say, could run it better.

Yours sincerely,
Minnie Eastman,
R. R. #2, Minden, Ont.

As others see it

Don't look now, but that aid to family discipline, the wood shed, may soon be back. With oil costs soaring, those who turned to that source for heating are looking for alternatives.

Natural gas is one and people are being urged to turn to it for many reasons.

But many like the idea of wood stoves and fireplaces. Some have already bought stoves, and the old cooking stove, with water tank, warming over, and the like, may soon occupy many a kitchen. Fireplaces are an aid on cool fall days and early spring days, but for heating a house, other stoves, or a wood burning furnace would be needed.

It will cost money to make the conversion, but the feeling is that wood burning will be cheaper. It ought to be, but once wood burning becomes popular, and the business of operating wood yards, and selling wood for fuel starts, that may change.

Handling of wood burning stoves and furnaces needs more work, and the chimneys need care. As far as pollution is concerned, it is unlikely wood burning is any worse than any other form of combustion if efficient stoves and fireplaces are used.

At any rate, we seem to be forced to look for alternatives because of the oil supply and price situation, and wood is so far the most popular alternative, possibly because of the attraction of the stoves and fireplaces.

And in a society which has some complaints about discipline, the return of the wood shed may heat more than the house.

WHY NOT FEBRUARY HOLIDAY?

Should Canadians have a holiday to chase away the winter blahs in February each year?

Pierre Burton, chairman of the Board for Heritage Canada thinks so and probably many Canadians agree with him. Burton says Heritage Canada Foundation has launched an all-out campaign to make Heritage Day - the third Monday in February - a national holiday.

Buy why a holiday on Heritage Day? Burton says it is simple: Preservation is the wave of the future. And preservation is a labor intensive industry.

Burton says we can no longer afford the luxury of a philosophy which held that once a building was written down on the company books, after a brief life of 30 years, it could be dispensed with and replaced with another.

It simply does not make sense to destroy a building, church, warehouse, bank, railway station or private home, that is still structurally sound. (CN take notice).

So why a holiday?

Burton says it will make people sit up and take

The Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association and the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association are to be congratulated on the success they are having with their two hockey tournaments held recently in the Pee Wee and Atom divisions. In an effort to stage these two big tournaments, it takes the teamwork of a great many people. Many other communities where there seems to be a lack of co-operation and people who are willing to work at it, find it very hard to get a hockey tournament off the ground. This is not the case in Haliburton, where teamwork and just all out and hard work has paid off to the extent that these two annual events are proving to be a terrific boost for the economy. When these tournaments swing into action business really picks up and it seems that everyone gets a piece of the action. In an effort to stage a minor hockey tourney with sixteen teams from all parts of Ontario, it takes the work of not only those dedicated people in the two associations who sponsor these events, but also the co-operation of many people in the community. I am just astounded at the results of these tournaments and when you see the clockwork performance in which the games are started on time, and how everyone involved just seems to know where to be, and what to do at the right time. It would be impossible to name everyone who is involved, but once again we would like to say thanks for a job well done. We can now look forward to the two tourneys that will once again be held in 1981.

The new Scotia Bank (The Bank of Nova Scotia) which has just recently been completed and is located in the Wilberforce Plaza, at Wilberforce, Ontario will have its Official Opening and Open House on Thursday, February 21, 1980. The Bank of Nova Scotia, which has been in Wilberforce for the past few years, is growing and in an effort to keep serving their customers better, they decided to move from their old location into the modern new building.

This coming Sunday, February 24th, will be a busy day at St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton. At the regular 10:00 a.m. church service, Creative Sound of Light will share a multi media presentation called "The Joy of the Lord is our Strength" as part of this service. Then at 7:00 p.m. a special film that you won't want to miss will be presented and it will be a great evening for both parents and their children. The name is "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe", an Emmy Award winning film.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton's Exchange Student Helene Hellquist was at a recent meeting of the club and presented slides on Sweden and gave a very informative talk about her homeland.

Rev. Ward Trotter will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship in Canada (Haliburton Hyland Chapter) hold their Dinner Meeting and Fellowship this Friday evening, February 22, 1980 at the Canadian Legion Hall, Haliburton at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome, and tickets are $5.00 for adults, $3.00 for students, and there is a family rate of $12.00 for those with public school children.

When I dropped into Emmerson Lumber Limited one day last week, Jack Johnston presented me with a copy of the Star Weekly dated Toronto, February 5, 1938, which he found when he was doing some renovations at the home of Mrs. Vittoria Formica. He particularly wanted me to see the full page write-up they had on Cyclone Taylor, one of Canada's greatest hockey forwards. Fred W. "Cyclone" Taylor, who could skate backwards faster than other forwards of the day could skate forwards, the greatest penalty-killer who ever skated in any direction. The great Lester Patrick played hockey in the West when Cyclone Taylor was performing the feats of ice magic that were to make him a legend among the heroes of the game...for a salary at which an ordinary player would sniff at today.

While still on the subject of hockey, I am certainly pleased the National Hockey League Board of Governors are seriously considering bringing overtime back into the game. I thought that it was a great mistake to take it away from the game when they did, but I understand that at that time it was done due to travelling commitments. In my opinion the hockey fan who pays a big dollar these days to get into see these hockey games is being cheated if he or she leaves a game with a tie score. In other words neither team has won. In putting overtime back into the game, they will be putting back one of the best parts of the action. Take for instance, last Tuesday night when Sweden was playing the United States in one of the opening games in the Winter Olympics hockey tournament at Lake Placid. From what I have been told this game was a thriller from start to finish, ending up in a 2-2 tie. I was working when the game was on, but managed to see the final minute of play when the United States pulled their goal tender and tied the game with only seconds left. This tying goal sent the United States supporters into a state of sheer madness, and they nearly brought the roof down, with their cheering. But once again the fans who at that time were really excited had to be satisfied with a tie. What a thrilling overtime this game could have produced. They can't bring the overtime back into hockey too soon, as far as I am concerned.

This coming Sunday, February 24, the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton will be holding a Fish Derby with registration between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. and the Fish Derby will be kicked off at 9 a.m. The Weigh-in will be a 5 p.m. at Koshlong Marina. Over $500 in prizes will be given away at this one day event.

We are proud to announce that West Guilford has another Junior A hockey player. He is Bernie Nicholls, son of George and Marjorie Nicholls of West Guilford, who is presently playing for the Kingston Canadiens. He is currently leading his team in scoring with a total of 72 points, and had 32 goals to his credit. He was selected for the leagues all-star game and scored a beautiful goal. We understand on good authority that he is being sought after very highly in the under-age draft. We wish him every success in his hockey career.

In 1930 Lord Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, visited Haliburton. He arrived by special train and a parade of school children led by the Haliburton Citizens Band, proceeded to the Recreation Grounds where a reception was held. In the above photo Lord Willingdon is just getting off the train to be met by the townspeople, an honour guard and the local band. The water tank can be seen in the distance. Our thanks to Mr. Bob Brohm of Brohm's Variety Store in Haliburton for submitting this most interesting photo.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

The Chamber at Queen's Park

One of the important roles of a Chamber of Commerce is to lobby. Lobbying is a necessary and integral part of our democratic process and good politicians rely heavily on responsible lobby groups when making important decisions. The lack of an organization to lobby for your interests means complete lack of input into legislative decisions that affect our lives and our business.

The Haliburton Chamber is a member of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, and our president, John Hogg is a director on their board. Any concerns that are provincial in nature are directed through his body to the provincial government. Last week the Ontario Chamber presented the Honourable Frank Miller with their pre-budget submission which should provide useful information for his ministry when preparing that budget. Our concerns are included in that submission.

An important factor in this exercise is that it is not just reactionary. It approaches legislation that is being considered before it becomes law and at this point legislators are far more receptive to different points of view.

The Ontario Chamber has also prepared and presented a position paper in respect to "Bill 3", which is an act to amend "The Employment Standards Act." The publicity in the media has suggested that the Chamber's re-action to this bill indicates they are against equal rights for men and women. This is not the case. The Chamber points out in their presentation that legislation already exists that requires employers to provide equal pay to male and female employees who are performing substantially the same work, and prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex with respect to hiring, training, classification, promotion or any other term of condition of employment.

"Bill 3" attempts to go a step farther and dictate that equal pay be applied to all work of equal value. Value of work is defined in the act as a "composite of the skill, effort and responsibility required in the performance of the work and the conditions under which the work is performed." No provision is made for experience, or for the quality of work or job performance as factors to be taken into account. If an employer cannot reward excellence, then incentive is removed for the employee to excel.

The Chamber has stressed that the implementation of this bill would be extremely costly and difficult, if not impossible, to enforce and that it represents a major intrusion of government into the private business sector. The presentation goes on to detail the anticipated problems in dealing with this bill in connection with collective bargaining agreements and the imbalance it would cause in the labour market place. "Bill 3" is an unworkable piece of legislation and should not be enacted.

Provincial Submissions

Our members are always encouraged to bring matters to our attention that we should be addressing, and at this particular time we ask for any such thoughts. Between now and March 8 we will be preparing several submissions to present the Ontario Chamber at their annual convention. Submissions must be provincial in nature and must be constructive. A constructive submission not only identifies the problem but suggests a remedy. Any submissions that are to be used will be discussed here in this column to provide an opportunity for further comment from the community.

M Mutual Life of Canada

Bill Smiley

For the first time in a couple of decades, young Canadians are taking more than a casual interest in world affairs. Young male teachers are asking us old veterans what we think about the invasion of Afghanistan, of boycotting the Olympics, whether the situation is like that when Hitler was on the march.

We don't have the answers, of course, but it's rather interesting to notice the sudden interest of these guys, who are usually talking about their boats, or their snowmobiles, or their last victory at racquet ball, or their mortgages.

And they're not the only ones. Just the other day, I was discussing with a Grade 11 class George Orwell's "Animal Farm", that incisive allegory of revolution and totalitarianism.

At least I had planned to discuss it. Instead we talked about Russia, which led to Afghanistan, which led to NATO, to China, to Hitler's waltz into various vacuums while Britain, France and the U.S. stood back and tut-tutted, to a possible invasion of Canada, to our pitiful armed forces, and a lot of other things.

The kids were serious, concerned, and eager to learn more. They reminded me of the young people of the early Sixties, who were deadly in earnest about the cold war and a possible nuclear holocaust.

But they retained their sense of humor. I wound up by asking jokingly, which of the services they would be joining. "Will you go into the Army, the Navy or the Air Force?"

One boy riposted, "I'll be going into the woods."

For what they are worth, I do have some opinions on the worldso it is important that the work assignments allow for as much exposure as possible, to as many situations as possible.

they are good and ready - probably after they have set up a puppet government ruthlessly ruled from Moscow.

Why not? Because the hard-liners have taken over in Russia, and they don't give a diddle for world opinion, at the same time keeping their own people in the dark.

Secondly, nobody has the guts, or the stupidity, to take them on, eyeball to eyeball, in Afghanistan, any more than anyone did when the Russians crushed the liberating climate of Czechoslovakia, or steamrollered into the ground the Hungarian revolution.

Oh, there were cries of dismay from everywhere on those occasions, but nobody did anything, except wring hands and take in refugees.

On only two occasions since World War II has anyone stood up to Russia. On both occasions, the Russians cooled it.

One was when Russia cut off Berlin from the West. The western countries responded with the Berlin Airlift, in the face of Russian threats that the mercy planes would be shot down. They were not, and the very tense situation resolved itself.

Another was the Cuban crisis. President Kennedy laid it on the line. If Russian ships carrying missiles and other obnoxious items to Cuba did not turn around and go home, they would be attacked. The Russians went right to the brink, then backed down.

But those were the days when NATO had some teeth, and the Americans probably had an edge in nuclear hardware. Things are different today.

In Europe, the NATO forces are no match for those of the Warsaw Pact, in men or machinery. About five years ago, an American general, now head of the U.S. chiefs of staff, told me personally that NATO could hold the Russians for only about two weeks. The situation today is worse.

On the world scene, the U.S. has received one black eye after another. A stale-mated war in Korea. A disaster in Viet Nam. The propping up of petty dictators around the world. The machinations of the CIA. A lot of prestige and a lot of clout has gone down the drain.

Britain is a third-rate power, as is France. The Scandinavians are wary of disturbing the bear. Germany west is tough and wealthy, but vulnerable from within and without. Japan sits on its can, making money, while protected by the American military. China is a big question mark, India the same. The Moslem world is not going to take on Russia.

So who's to stop them? I predict that they will consolidate in Afghanistan, with little opposition, then cool things down for a few years, though keeping brush-fires going in Africa and elsewhere, before making their next move, possibly to squash Yugoslavia.

As for Canada pulling out of the Olympics, unless the great majority of nations outside the Soviet bloc follow suit, it would make as much difference, one way or the other, as a flea biting an elephant.

Municipal training offered by province

On-the-job training in municipal government operations is being provided through a new program being launched by the Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs.

The program is being developed to help municipal governments in Ontario attract and develop qualified staff who are interested in working at the local level.

Development of such a program was recommended in the Managers for Local Government Study.

The Ministry will work to match those graduates interested in working in various municipal government fields - some applicants may already be on staff - with municipalities which have indicated interest in the program. Municipalities will interview candidates and make hiring arrangements.

Funding will be shared on a predetermined formula by the employing municipality and the Ministry.

Each trainee who is accepted into the program will work in a municipality for two years.

The program is geared to providing the trainee with an overall view of local government.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

As you are probably aware, the Ontario Liberal Party has established a Labour Task Force. Its purpose is to obtain grass-roots participation in the preparation of a Labour Policy Paper. All aspects of labour-management relations are, of course, important, but it is anticipated that special emphasis will be given to:

- (1) Labour legislation.
- (2) Women in the workplace.
- (3) Union security and union responsibility.
- (4) Rights of Unorganized Workers.
- (5) Management rights and responsibilities.
- (6) Manpower/management programs.

Liberal Labour Critic Ron Van Horne (MPP London North) is Chairman of the Task Force. He will be assisted by Ray Haggerty (Erie), Jim Bradley (St. Catharines) and Alf Stong (York Centre), as well as local members in the communities in which the public hearings are to take place.

Eakins concerned about contract

John Eakins, M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton said this week he is concerned about a contract soon to be awarded by the L.C.B.O. for a system of computerized cash registers. This was reported in the editorial section of a Toronto newspaper earlier this week. The contract will be worth between $10 million and $20 million to one of eight firms who have submitted tenders.

"One of those firms is a small business which apparently is offering 'the right price, advanced technology and an attractive product'."

Eakins said. Yet it may not be the successful bidder for the very reason that it is a small business. The L.C.B.O. might award the contract to a larger, more established, firm because it is easier and less risky to deal with a 'sure thing'.

"The L.C.B.O. is an agency of the Provincial Government," said Eakins. "If such government bodies are not going to do business with our smaller enterprises, how can we ever expect the private sector to extend a similar preference toward small companies?"

"The Ministry of Industry and Tourism should not have to be a watchdog to ensure that the small businessman is getting his fair share of government contracting and subcontracting," Eakins maintained. "A legislative commitment would guarantee this. That is why I introduced in October of 1977, 'An Act respecting Small Business in Ontario'. That is why I intend to re-introduce it in the upcoming session of the Legislature. When the Act was debated in 1977 it was accepted in principle by all parties of the Legislature, but the present Minister of Industry and Tourism has refused to bring my Act to committee."

Eakins said, "Section 3 of his Act would have ensured that where a small business is offering the same bid as that offered in all other valid tenders, that the bid of the small company would be accepted. "In other words, the L.C.B.O. example is exactly the kind of situation that my Small Business Act was intended to address," Eakins said.

"The concluding statement of the editorial report summed it up perfectly: 'Industrial strategies don't come about by accident.'"

Monmouth council meets

At the February meeting of Monmouth Township council, the following matters were considered:

General voucher of $9,278.21, O.H.R.P. voucher of $6,993.62 and welfare payroll of $1,301 were approved for payment.

Council approved severance H2/80.

Council accepted the cheque in the amount of $763.75 from Ken Webster re: gravel removed from open concession between 8 and 9, Lot 27, in 1979.

It was resolved that a carpenter be hired to clean the Tory Hill Recreation Centre when necessary.

The Ontario Home Renewal Administrator was authorized to extend the amortization period where necessary.

A by-law to establish the rate of penalty and interest on taxes in arrears was passed.

Two by-laws to establish certain lands as municipal highway were also passed.

By-law Number 79-17 was rescinded.

The fee structure for rezoning applications was set at $25 for administrative fee plus all costs for the application.

It was resolved that tax registration properties be advertised for sale in the Toronto Star, Bancroft Times and Haliburton County Echo.

The January 1980 road accounts in the amount of $3,542.40 were paid.

Ralph Hutchinson must put an addition of 460 square feet to the trailer on Lot 31, Concession 16 and the old house must be used for storage, or if he does not wish to add to the trailer, the trailer must be removed from the said lot, council decided.

The requirements must be completed by May 31, 1980 and no further extensions to this will be granted.

Council concurred with Brock Resolution re: Metric system.

All-Star game high scoring but entertaining

Don Mills Junior 'B' Flyers meet district club comprised of Junior 'D' players

by Joe Banks

It couldn't exactly be called a low-scoring game, but what hockey fans saw at the Dysart Arena Saturday night was the best brand of competition played at the building in a long time.

The Don Mills Junior 'B' Flyers met the district Junior 'D' All-Stars in an exhibition game that proved to be highly entertaining, as well as enjoyable for the players.

Haliburton Huskies players on the All-Star squad included Joe Roberts, Chris Hodgson, Dave Brown, Mike Scheffee and Kevin O'Hara, all of whom were valuable additions to the team.

Don Mills, a high calibre squad which plays in the Metro league in Toronto, proved to be a little too much for the All-Stars, but the competition was brisk. Scoring in the first period was opened by the Stars in the first 35 seconds, as Ernie Dufty of the Bewdley Rangers slammed one home assisted by Huskie Joe Roberts and Bancroft Jets forward Randy Franksy. Eight minutes later that line scored again from Dufty, but the Flyers came back with a short-handed goal at 11:40.

Dufty achieved his hat trick at 18:51, this time set-up by Franksy and Andy Wasson of the Lakefield Chiefs. That ended the period 3 to 1 in the Star's favour.

Paul Tomlin of Bewdley scored 11 seconds into the third period assisted by Lakefield's Al Armstrong and Steve Hardill, but the rest of the period was dominated by Don Mills, as they rallied for six goals in the course of 13 minutes to give them a three goal margin.

The third period became even, and end-to-end play dominated much of the remaining game. Don Mills picked up two goals in a row at 1:09 and again at 8:09, but Joe Roberts made up some of the difference as he scored two goals in a row, the first at 8:25 and the second, a spectacular diving effort with 10 minutes remaining. The first was assisted by Randy Franksy and John Page of Bewdley, while the second was assisted by Page and Dufty. The game ended with the score at 9 to 6 for Don Mills.

The game proved to be a clean one, as both teams received only six minutes total in penalties, a good indication of the style and calibre of the hockey played.

Huskies edge Bewdley 5-4, two games left in schedule

With only two games left in their regular season schedule things aren't looking too great for the Haliburton Huskies.

Though they won their Monday night game against Bewdley by a tight 5 to 4, they were playing on home ice, a factor which should have lifted the team to a much more convincing victory.

In the first period of the game, both teams checked very closely, resulting in only one goal being scored by Bewdley.

The second period was profitable for the Huskies, as two quick goals were scored at 2:38 and 4:36, the first by Mike Scheffee assisted by Andy Salvatori and Joe Roberts, and the second by Les Booth assisted by affiliated player Dave Nichols and Dwight Sisson. Bewdley bounced back at 6:14 with one of their own, but Mike Rae cancelled the effort when he scored backed up by Salvatori and Joe Roberts. At 10:01, Nichols widened the margin by two goals when he was assisted by Booth and Sisson. But the final goal of the period was at 14:30 by Bewdley.

The third period became more free-wheeling, as Joe Roberts picked up his 28th goal of the season at 14:20 from Salvatori and Kevin O'Hara. The Rangers came within one goal at 17:26 when they scored, but the Huskies managed to hold continued end-game pressure to win the match by one.

As the season draws near, Joe Roberts continues to lead the team, and the league with 73 points, with Dave Brown not too far behind with 66. Craig Wood, goaltender, has a 6.0 goals against average.

The Huskies play their next game Friday night in Bancroft and finish up the season Saturday night against Lakefield.

Haliburton Midgets take Cannington, team now advances to quarter-finals

On Tuesday, February 5, at Haliburton, the Midgets came out determined to continue on in their winning way. At 2:20 of the first period, Ed Davis scored, assisted by Glen Evans and Dave Nicholls. The period ended 1 to 0.

At 14:30 of the second, Davis scored again from Nicholls and at 11:33 Nicholls scored from Davis. Cannington replied 11 seconds later, but less than a minute and a half later, Paul Madden tallied, assisted by Tony Scheffee and Jim Lee. The period ended 5 to 1.

A determined Cannington team came out in the third period and scored two quick goals at 10:14 and 9:44. This was to be short-lived when at the 8:40 mark, Davis scored his fourth of the night from Nicholls and Norm Barry. Then at the 4:23 mark, Darren MacInnes wrapped it all up on an unassisted goal to make the final, Haliburton, 7, Cannington, 3.

Then it was back to Cannington on February 13. Determined to end the series and a three game sweep, the lads came out flying when at 7:31 Nicholls scored his first of four from Evans. The period ended 1 to 0.

At 14:30 of the second, MacInnes replied from Scheffee and Madden, and at 9:19 Nicholls scored on a great solo effort to make the score 3 to 0. But Cannington was not about to give up as they scored two quick goals at 4:53 and 3:18. The second period ended, Haliburton, 3, Cannington, 2.

In the third, Haliburton scored at 12:56, Nicholls from Evans. Cannington scored only 17 seconds later. But again Haliburton extended their lead when at 9:48, Evans scored from Nicholls and MacInnes.

That's the way the score remained until 2:17 when Cannington scored to make the score 5 to 4 and put the pressure back on to Haliburton. But at 1:12, MacInnes scored from Abbs to relieve this pressure and Cannington tried to come back by pulling their goaltender for the extra attacker. But it backfired when at the 0:15 mark, Nicholls found the open net to make the final, 7 to 4 for Haliburton and to eliminate Cannington in three straight.

The Midgets now advance to the quarter finals against Powassan which get underway this Saturday, February 23 in Powassan and back here Sunday afternoon, February 24.

Editor's Note: The following is a letter to Tim Casey, one of the organizers of the Alcide Carpentier Peewee hockey tournament held in Haliburton two weeks ago:

Dear Mr. Casey,
I would like to thank you for giving us the opportunity to participate in the Haliburton Peewee hockey tournament last week. The response that I have received from the boys and their parents was very enthusiastic. In particular, the even matching of teams, the calibre of play, the liberal assortment of awards, and the spaghetti dinner received favourable comments. Also, the boys enjoyed staying with families in the area - in fact, I would say that for some, hockey was a more incidental part of the weekend. A special thanks is due also to Mrs. Joan Stinson and Mrs. Darlene McKnight for accommodating our special requests for the billeting.
Congratulations on an exciting, well-run tournament.

Yours truly,
Don Singleton,
Glouster Rangers Minor Hockey Association,
Ottawa, Ontario

Any RRSP saves taxes. What counts is growth.

And consistent growth at that. No matter which investment vehicle you select for your RRSP or other tax shelter, investment, tax savings are guaranteed. The difference is in the return you receive on your investment. That's what determines what you'll have to show for your investment - in hard cash - when your plan reaches maturity. Compounded over a period of years, even a small percentage difference between rates of growth makes an immense difference in your retirement income. The Industrial Group of Funds managed by Mackenzie Financial Corporation have a proven record of growth - at a rate that outstrips inflation - through both good and bad economic times. For example, net unit value of the Industrial Growth Fund is up over 500 percent over the last 12 years. And our other funds are achieving similar results. It's not a matter of good luck. It's the result of proven professional money management skills and a fundamentally conservative approach, with the constant goal of maximizing the rate of return consistent with minimal risk. Growth and dependability. It's an ideal formula for your RRSP. Saving money is one thing. Making it grow - consistently - is another.

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Well, there certainly can't be much to complain about where the weather is concerned and having said that, we can now probably look forward to a deluge. I hope not!

If any of you folks have ideas on recycling, why not let us all in on it by giving me a call at 488-2399. Who knows? We may get a real thing going here. As some of the girls here in town know, I for one, saved pieces of ordinary white and off white string, knotted it all together and crocheted in just a plain granny stitch, a huge bedspread all in one piece. It's just for an old iron bed that sits in the basement and the finished product looks for all the world, like an antique spread. I also covered a slab of sponge rubber to match the spread and that acts as a large pillow sham. The heavy brown string I did the same thing only it's being used as a floor cover in the front entrance to the house. Looks kind of rustic.

The Newfoundland recipe for this week is called "Blueberry Grunt", and calls for: 1 qt. blueberries, 1/2 cup sugar or more to taste, 1/2 cup water. Boil berries, water and sugar in a saucepan until there is plenty of juice. Sift together, 2 cups flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp salt and 1 tsp sugar. Cut in 1 tbsp. butter with knife. Then add sufficient milk to make a soft dough, like biscuit dough. Drop by tbsp. over berries. Cover closely, and cook for 15 minutes.

Sorry to hear of Margaret Kylie's mishap this week. After a bad fall, she ended up at Minden Red Cross Hospital apparently suffering a cut hand, possible shoulder injury and a bad shaking up. Get well soon, Maggie, we all miss you.

Win and Bill Wilson, Betty and John Lonsdale, all of RR 1, Kinmount, were Friday night dinner guests of Laura Gaunt at Head Lake.

A little prayer, a card, phone call or just dropping in for a chat would be a very thoughtful thing to do these days and a few people deserving of these considerations are: John Handley, Art and Elizabeth Young, Mary Graham, Shirley Harris, Dick Austin, Joe Maguire, Ken Gardiner, Annie Silvers, Les and Ethel Swanton, David McGann and Ruby Holbrook.

On the occasion of my own husband's birthday this week I planned a surprise dinner buffet. Guests consisted of Ida and Clyde Pardy of Cobocok; Mary L. and Jack Pike, Bill, Lorrie and Jason Moss of Norland; Dorothy and Eddie Brown of RR 1, Norland; Millie and Pete Cruickshanks, Toronto; Win and Bill Wilson, RR 1, Kinmount. Thank you to all for helping make Bill's day.

Bessie Sedgewick of Fenelon Falls was a dinner guest of Ruby Schell on Sunday, February 10.

Mr. Murray Young of Kinmount and Mr. John Pyke of Norland have talked a number of times via C.B. radio but had never met personally so on Saturday, February 9, Mr. Young stopped by the Pyke household and it turns out Murray lives just along the road from our house. Thank you, my mother and brother enjoyed your visit.

Mrs. Georgina Young of Kinmount, had as guests over the weekend, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conder of Barrie. Enjoyed your phone visit Georgina.

I hear the benefit dance, held at the Legion in Kinmount, for the Joe Maguire family turned out very well with a good turnout of 75 to 80 local people. Marg Graham and her group supplied the music and the Legion donated the use of their hall. Mrs. Maguire thanked the firemen of Galway-Cavendish who hosted the function and Mr. Carl Brickman, reeve of Galway-Cavendish, thanked the

Speaking contest comes to Coby

Do yourself a favour, be at the Cobocok Legion Hall, 7:15 P.M. Tuesday, February 26th, for the Cobocok Legion public speaking contest. The top junior and senior speakers from Kirkfield, Cobocok, Burnt River and Norland schools will be most entertaining. The winner of each section will compete in the Legion zone finals, Sunday, March 2, 1:30 P.M. in the Fenelon Falls Legion Hall.

Legion and all the ladies of the Legion and the firemen's wives who helped make the luncheon such a huge success. Thanks also goes to Lil Platt who spends a lot of her time in that kitchen. Substantial donations were accepted and will be given to Mrs. Maguire. I hear Joe has been up and walked a little. Good news!

Mr. Bud Mansfield, Kinmount, is still in Civic Hospital after having undergone surgery.

Marguerite Curtin of Galway also had surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough on February 12. Get well soon.

Congratulations to Glenda Swanton on her win of the $170 jackpot at the Kinmount Legion bingo, Friday, February 8.

Ida Young, our congenial rural mail carrier, is under the weather these days with a very bad cold. Hurry and get well Ida, it was you who said "bring on the snow!"

Laurence Cormier is very ill in Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Quite a number of people in the area are having problems recently, with freeze-ups in water lines, septic problems and clogged foot valves. Good luck to all of you.

year old granddaughter of Mary and "Mike" Hartin of RR 1, Kinmount. Jodie-Mae would like to thank everyone at this time, who helped in sponsoring her and especially to the folks in Kinmount who took such an interest in her. Gertie Crichton, R.R. 1, Cobocok and Ruth Manard Correction: In last week's news, I had four grandchildren for Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stamp; this should have read number five. Sorry for the error.

Don't forget next Saturday will be our annual ski doo rally. Posters are out with all the information for the day. Come and have good food and lots of fun.

Home for the weekend with her parents, Kathy and Ross Anderson, was Nancy and her friend Neil Iddon from Trent University.

We have our son Kevin and our daughter Helen and Calvin and Sandra and Susan Miller from St. Catharines for the weekend.

Get well wishes to Aunt Carrie Morrison who is in St. Joseph's hospital after recent surgery.

Kathleen Bates is spending a few holidays in Toronto with her family.

Brady Major of Hamilton is spending a few days vacation with his parents Art and Lee Major.

Roly and Laura Seagrove spent the weekend with Eric and Lesley Finlay. Sorry to hear Laura had the misfortune to cut her finger which meant a trip to the hospital for stitches.

of Kinmount will be two of the lucky people who will be on the bus headed for Hollywood, Florida on March 2. They will be down south for three weeks. Maybe we'll hear some stories when they get back. Happy holiday folks!

It has been mentioned again recently about the danger of the fire ruins on Hwy. 121, Kinmount, across from St. Patrick's Church. I've been told children are still going in there to play and with all that loose rock, beams and twisted metal, how long before one of them is hurt or killed? Doesn't do much for the landscape either.

Last Sunday morning, Ruth and Bill Menard were just sitting down to breakfast when a couple of people whom they hadn't seen in eight years, rapped on their door. Ruth and Bill had been neighbours of Ruby and Horace Jackson in Toronto years ago. Love is - being remembered!

Mr. Robert Lorn who used to be a resident locally with his mother and father, Kay and Lorne Lorn of RR 2, Burnt River and is now a high school teacher in Hamilton, Ontario, recently had a stay in hospital but is home now and coming along nicely.

Does anyone have a purebred Spring Spaniel who is looking for a husband? If so, phone 488-2526.

Bingo players: games at Kinmount Legion every Friday - 7:30 p.m.; Bobcaygeon, St. Joseph's hall every Monday - 7:30 p.m.; Kirkfield, Lions at community hall every Tuesday - 8 p.m. and Cobocok Legion every Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. Euchre games at Galway, St. James and St. Patrick's halls every week so lots to keep you occupied.

At beginning of this column I mentioned weather and sure enough, very next day - snow and snow, although small in amount, for three days, but nevertheless, it's still snow. Guess I should keep quiet about that subject.

There will be a "Leap Year" card party at the Hyland Crest Home in Minden on February 29. All are welcome and admittance will be $1. A lunch will be served and prizes won. Put this event on your date calendar.

Mr. Tom Bacon enjoyed an early celebration of his birthday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Dettman, at Crystal Lake. Also attending his party was Mr. and Mrs. Doug Charlesworth and family from Lindsay and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Muriel Bacon of Victoria Road. Tom, opening his gifts, said, he wished he had a birthday every day.

Many happy returns, Tom. Mrs. Georgina Young, Kinmount, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Kelso, Bobcaygeon, last week.

Margaret Kylie has now been transferred from Minden Red Cross to Peterborough. Get well soon Margaret.

Earl Askey, Kinmount, is back home again from hospital and coming along. His sister, Mary O'Toole is also suffering from a very bad cold. Get well, the two of you. Nicier weather has to come soon.

Happy birthday to Mary's son, John O'Toole who celebrated his day on February 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brooks are on an extended visit with a very old friend of Madeline's in Miami, Florida.

Madeline is the only sister to Mary O'Toole of Kinmount.

There was a birthday party held at the home of Cora Jackson, Kinmount on Monday, February 11 in honour of Mary Olliver. Also attending were Georgina Young, Verlie Young, Ann Cain and Ruby Schell. The girls had an enjoyable time playing cards. Lorene Swinson along with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shedden have left for one month in Arizona and a month in California.

Mr. Elgie McKay of Kinmount is another of our people on the sick list in hospital.

There was an Italian night held at the Norland Pioneer Baptist Church in the new extension on Saturday, February 9. Approximately 130 adults and children attended with a good number of them from Kinmount, including Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott and family. The children were taken on a wagon ride around the area, by Mr. Ingram Wessell and after dinner, which consisted of spaghetti, salad, crusty roll, apple pie and cheese, a film was shown, aptly named "Silence", about a deaf mute child. Thanks to all who contributed in making the day such a nice day to remember.

On Saturday, February 9, Jack and Joyce Hills of RR 1, Kinmount, held a surprise party in honour of Jack's mother, Mrs. E. A. (Mary)

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

By the time you read this column, it will all be over (the election I mean). Of course, there still may be wailing and grinding of teeth, but the people of Canada will have placed in office the person whom they think is best fitted to lead our country, hopefully for the next four years. We sure cannot afford an election every six months or so. Mind you, I enjoyed the commercials that each party had on T.V. They were so much more entertaining than long winded speeches that would deprive us of a favourite program. I certainly had good laughs over the Rhino commercials; at least they were entertaining.

Have you gotten your bus ticket for the trip to the Flower and Garden Show at Toronto Coliseum? If not you only have a few days left for the bus leaves Minden on Wednesday, February 27 at 8 a.m. Contact 286-2228 or 286-2057 for tickets. Bus price is $10. Admission to the show is $3 for senior citizens, $4 for others. Take your lunch. The bus will be stopping on the way home for you to have a hot meal.

Remember time is flying so if you wish to go, get on the phone quick.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hurtt left last week for a visit with daughter Lynn and family in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Cora Hewitt is visiting her son Lewis and his family in Australia for the month of February.

Mark Twain once gave a bit of medical advice. "The only way to keep your health is to eat what you don't want, drink what you don't like, and do what you'd rather not." How true!

Blake Hughes and a friend of his from Mississauga, came up for a bit of fishing on the weekend but had no luck.

The fish just would not bite. Keep in mind the Leap Year Card Party at Hyland Crest on February 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell left recently on a holiday through the southern States. Members of the Agricultural Society are attending the yearly convention in Toronto this week.

Mrs. Len Lonsberry attended the wedding of their nephew in Sault Ste. Marie on the weekend.

All the fine compliments; All the good wishes; Will never replace help with the dishes.

Swiss Steak in Foil: 2 lb., 1-inch round steak, 1 cup ketchup, ¼ cup flour, ¼ tsp. salt, 1/8 tsp. pepper, 1 large onion, sliced, 2 tbsp. lemon juice or 1 lemon sliced thinly. Cut steak in serving pieces; combine ketchup and flour; spoon ½ of mixture into centre of double thickness foil; put steak on top; season. Cover steak with onions and rest of ketchup mixture. Sprinkle with lemon juice and seal very carefully. Bake at 450 degrees for 1½ hours.

Miss Jody Campbell of Toronto spent the weekend at her home.

Last Wednesday afternoon the sewing group of the U.C.W. enjoyed a social chit-chat while they tied down a quilt at the church hall. The next meeting of the sewing group will be at the church hall, Wednesday, March 12 at 2 p.m.

The annual meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Scholarship Fund Committee is being held this Thursday evening, February 21 at the High School. All interested in how this funding is done is invited.

When glue from a price tag leaves a gummy substance on a plastic article, try rubbing the gummy substance with a cloth moistened with white vinegar. This usually makes the glue wipe off easily.

Members of the A.C.W. met at St. Paul's Parish Hall on Tuesday, February 12. The president, Mrs. D. Barker was in charge of the devotional. Mrs. Reg Welch gave both the secretary and treasurer reports as the treasurer was ill. Mrs. Ernie Hewitt reported on the Thrift Shop. Bazaar material was given out and anyone not present who wishes material for either the bazaar or bales please contact either Joyce Hewitt or Dora Dawson. All ladies of St. Paul's Church are asked to donate 10 articles this year for the church bazaar.

Wayne Henderson from the Health Food Store commented on planning meals and eating to be healthy.

At the close of the meeting, mint flavoured alfalfa tea, health food goodies and fruit loaves were served by Mrs. Barker and W. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beattie and family visited on Sunday with Mrs. J. Beattie and Mrs. Joyce Hewitt.

There will be a card party at the Orange Hall on Monday, February 25 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Alice Morrison is home again after a long visit with Myles, Craig and Lyn, also sister, Mrs. Dora Dawson in Peterborough.

The Kinetite Valentine Dance was well attended and everyone had an excellent time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Kellett and family of Lakefield spent the weekend with Mrs. Gladys Wruth.

Winners at the mini card party last Thursday were: cribbage - Vera Ward, Gladys Wruth, Euehre - lone hand - Della Griffin; Marg McFeeffe, Jeanne Sears.

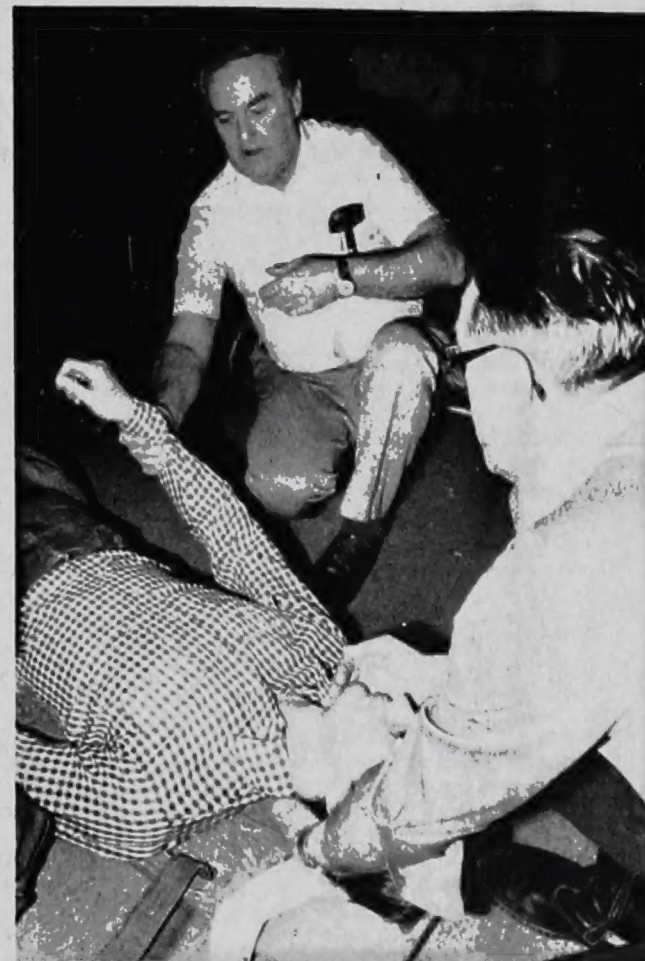

Mrs. Alice Todd visited with Mrs. Daisy Sutherland in Lindsay last week.

The Thrift Shop at St. Paul's Parish Hall will be open after 1 p.m. on Friday, February 29; at this time there will also be a half price sale of bazaar items.

I had a nice chat with Glenn Kellett last week and he told me he had bought a home in Bermuda and travels from country to country now, while brother Craig handles the business matters in Canada.

An afgan donated to Minden Minor Hockey by Lil Gorvett is on display in Stedmans window. Tickets are on sale now and the draw will be made at the hockey banquet in May.

Adios and take care now.

J.F. Barnett, training officer with the Ambulance Services Branch of the Ministry of Health, instructed about 35 people in emergency patient care at the old Orange Lodge in Haliburton last Thursday. The course was available for first response teams and part-time volunteer ambulance attendants.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

The election results will be old news by the time this item is printed but reports have come in about a successful meeting held in the Memorial Centre by followers of N.D.P. representative, Patrick Daniels. Mr. Daniels is a teacher and owns a tree farm in Minden. Questions were raised and answered concerning gas and oil prices and other controversial subjects. Mr. Daniels was found to be very articulate and was able to give satisfactory answers to problems raised. A light touch was added by Harold Brodthagen who entertained with violin selections. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

A number of Monmouth Firemen attended a First Response Team training session held in the Orange Hall in Haliburton. A C.P.R. refresher course is scheduled for March.

The Monmouth Library is a place of action. In addition to library service, the Girl Guides meet every Tuesday evening and the Brownies on Thursdays. Donna Herbert has an enthusiastic group of youngsters meeting Friday nights for film viewing and learning simple crafts. About fifteen turned up at the last gathering. As the age range is varied this sometimes presents a problem but everyone seems to enjoy the experience. A book exchange this week puts new reading material at your disposal. Poor T.V. programs are boosting our circulation.

Word has come from California that Mrs. Hazel Rutman, one time teacher in Wilberforce, died on December 14 at the Beverly Glen Hospital in Los Angeles. After leaving Wilberforce, Mrs. Rutman retired to a home in Gravenhurst, where she resided until moving to Los Angeles to be near her daughter, Ljssavada.

We are proud of our new Bank of Nova Scotia situated in the mall. The official opening takes place on February 21. The interior is light and airy and contains modern equipment and furnishings. The good-looking exterior complements the adjacent liquor store which was completed last year. An added feature is plenty of parking space.

A visit to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bowen found them happy to be established in the comfortable surroundings of Extensicare. They both looked very well and seemed pleased with the care and attention administered by the attendants.

A constant source of annoyance to Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, when they lived in Wilberforce, was the continual row of parked cars in front of their gate that completely blocked their view of the road. Recent changes have provided parking for these cars elsewhere but the folks are not here to enjoy the unobstructed view.

There hasn't been a dance in town for ages so you can look forward to a happy time on February 23 when the Figure Skating Club sponsors a dance for your enjoyment at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre with music by the Misty River Ramblers.

The Fitness Club is becoming a popular place to spend Wednesday afternoons. Two Hills' 85th birthday. Guests in attendance from Willowdale and Scarborough included son Don Hills; grandchildren - Mr. and Mrs. Pat Molloy; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cahill; Ernest Hills Jr. and Barry Hills. Unable to attend were two other sons and their families - Tom and Reynold Hills. Mrs. Hills is a very active lady and still comes up to her cottage on Sturgeon Lake. Theirs was one of the first cottages to be built at Long Beach, just outside Cameron, some 50 years ago. Son Jack remembers spending his summers helping the local farmers bring in their hay and grain. They worked from dawn to dusk for a dollar a day (remember when?) but the food was sure good and lots of it. A very happy 85th from all of us, Mrs. Hills.

I just received a call to ask any of you ladies who may use the hose/pantihose that come in the little egg-shaped plastic containers (Legs?), not to throw them away. The folks at Hyland Crest in Minden use them in their craft work. They make the cutest toys and baby rattles from them. If you can help these people at all, Win Wilson would be pleased to hear from you, at 488-2526 or you could give me a call at 488-2399.

Bonnie and Jim Walker, Weston, are guests for a few days at our house.

Euehre results at Galway this week: ladies high - Pauline Franzen with a 76, Pauline low, Yvonne Dyer, 71; men's high, Ken Young and Ken Stuart each had 86 points; men's low, Bob Allen, 59 and most lone hands went to Harry Stuart with five. I'll be here again next week and in the meantime, stay happy and healthy. Have a good day.

Principal's Newsletter

by Brian Mosgrove

Since 1965, 22 community colleges with a total of more than 90 campuses have been created in Ontario. They provide job-oriented programs for high school graduates, out-of-school youths and others who may not have completed secondary school.

In 1978-79, full-time enrolment, including post-secondary manpower and apprenticeship students was 85,700. The main campus of Sir Sandford Fleming College in Peterborough had a full-time enrolment of 2,642 in 1978-79. More than ninety graduates from both grade 12 and grade 13 of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School during the years 1973 to 1977 attended a College of Applied Arts and Technology. Approximately one-third of these attended Sir Sandford Fleming College.

At most colleges, programs are divided into major divisions such as applied arts, business, health sciences and technology. Together, the colleges offer nearly 2,000 programs. Obviously, all colleges do not offer all programs. For specific information on any program or course, students should check the individual college calendars or visit their nearest community college.

An excellent guide to Ontario education opportunities after high school entitled "Horizons 1980-81" is available at the Guidance office in the school or from:

Communications Services Branch
Ministry of Education
14th Floor, Mowat Block
Queen's Park
TORONTO, Ontario M7A 1L2

The guide covers: Apprenticeships, Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology, Universities and other Post-secondary education such as Ontario College of Art, Institute of Chartered Accountants, Colleges of Agricultural Technology and the Niagara Parks Commission School of Horticulture.

Haliburton students must of necessity board away from home to attend a community college. Total costs for an eight-month academic year will vary, but $3,000 or more is a realistic starting point. This would include: tuition fees at $345 for two terms, $150 to $500 per year for books and supplies, transportation, room and board at approximately $50 per week and the usual assorted miscellaneous items.

Admission requirements vary from college to college in some courses; students are strongly advised to consult the calendar of the college they are interested in attending. Calendars of all colleges are available at the school guidance office or directly from the college registrar. General admission requirements are an Ontario Secondary School Graduation Diploma obtained at the end of grade 12. Some programs have specific subject requirements; for example, the Diploma Nursing Program at Sir Sandford Fleming requires:

(1) Ontario Secondary School Graduation Diploma to include one senior level English and two senior level sciences.
(2) Interviews and/or aptitude testing may be requested.

(3) Certificates of good physical, mental and dental health will be required prior to admission.

Also, for some programs a grade 13 graduation diploma may be required for admission. I wish to emphasize again that students must consult the calendar of the college for specific admission requirements.

Application for Admission forms are available at the high school. Normally, applications may be submitted after January 1 and interviews may commence January 1. Acceptances will be issued from April 1. All applications postmarked by February 15 will be treated on an equal basis. As with any type of application, the earlier it is done, the better.

COMING EVENTS:
Monday, February 25th - Kawartha District Curling at Haliburton.

Friday, February 29th - Girls' gymnastics meet at Lindsay.

Thursday, February 21st - Annual Meeting, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Scholarship Fund Council.

Charges laid

A 26-year old Pickering man has been charged with possession of a narcotic for the purpose of trafficking after police seized a quantity of cannabis resin oil (hash oil).

Russell Keith Hodgson was charged after police discovered the drug during a routine safety spot check on Highway #35, four miles south of Minden.

Hodgson was slated to appear in Lindsay Provincial court, Monday.

Sheila Lake

Murray Robertson returned Friday after a week in Florida and says he returned because it was so chilly there. Besides, he wanted to be here for the election celebrations on Monday; he has every confidence in his chosen man, and says he may go back to Florida to have another holiday after the election.

The benefit dance for the Edmonds who were recently burnt out was a success and any and all money collected will go to help them establish a new home.

George and Valerie Shepherd moved into their newly built home beside the home they lived in, and have four apartments rented in their former home. I understand the Edmonds will be living there, which is just across the street from their burned out home.

On Wednesday, yours truly accompanied by Dorothy Bain of Haliburton, Diane Vickery of Cardiff, and Marlene Pelcher of Minden, enjoyed a special occasion, the annual Avon Presidents' Club luncheon and awards held at the Continental Inn at Barrie.

Mrs. Ethel Farrow visited Mrs. Rita McNeil at Haliburton on Tuesday. Mrs. Farrow and I also visited with the Joe Warburton's at Minden on Tuesday. Mrs. Annie Marles visited her sister on Saturday. Mrs. A. Irwin in Lindsay.

Someone has dumped off three lovely Siamese cats at the Jack Batty farm. A Siamese cat is definitely a house pet, so the only way they could be there is because some hard hearted person left all three hoping they would be accepted by the Batty clan. Well the cats are being well cared for, but Jean would love to find homes for them. She has advertised through the local radio station, but no-one has claimed them. So if you have always wanted a Siamese cat, give Jean Batty a call at 454-3620 or write her at R.R.1, Coboconk, Ontario. She would appreciate finding homes for these cats.

A thought for today: Teach me the art of taking minute vacations - of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book.

I don't know if you are a parsley lover or not, but did you know that parsley is often referred to as "the King of Herbs". Parsley is a good source of Vitamins A, C and iron. There is at least eight known species of domestic parsley, plain and Italian varieties. Add a dash of parsley to your next batch of dumplings, cream sauce for fish, to stews and in a salad if you can get the fresh parsley.

On visiting a place of business in Lindsay. I was taken up with a display of bright green apples. The firm advertises, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away", and their R.R.S.P. is a good solid source of financial security. There was an apple at each tellers window and a basket of apples at each desk that held deposit slips, etc.

One wonders how so many new promotion ideas are dreamed up, and this little promotion gimmick will no doubt increase their deposit accounts. In any case it's a real good idea and those plump green apples sure do get your eye when you enter the premises.

The real cold weather of the last three weeks makes for safer ice, but why, oh why, do folk take cars and snowmobiles out on lakes? So sad that a number have drowned this winter. Ice huts dot all the little lakes to the north of us, and we noticed huts on the ice to the west of Highway 121 as you enter Orillia. However, they were not out that far on the lake. An ice hut is much lighter than a car, so there is not the danger, but we hope you give it second thoughts if you plan on taking your car onto the ice. Happy fishing!

Stanhope notes

by Alex Stevenson

Intended for last week -

The February 6 meeting of Township Council was one of the shortest in a long time, due in part to the fact that there are no delegations present, and also because there were few matters involving the various committees. Considerable time and discussion was given to the matter of the Old Hawk Lake road which, as is generally known, is a matter of contention between the County roads committee and the Township of Stanhope. Whether or not the Township will submit to the County demand that the road be taken over is not yet clear, but a letter is going out to property owners along the affected part of the road to outline a new proposal for closing or dead-ending the road. Response to this approach will no doubt be of assistance to Council on its decision on the matter.

What is not clear to some people is why, since the road is at present a county road, should the township be saddled with the task of closing the road and perhaps with the need for assuming expenditure for repairs where needed, to say nothing of all the problems associated with the closing. It would seem to make sense for the township to refuse to take over the road until it is free of all the encumbrances associated with it.

Council also received a presentation from the Acid Rain committee outlining some information re liming of lakes, where this has been necessary, and also providing council with the most recent test results made by Ontario Ministry of Environment re the condition of Stanhope lakes. These tests made during 1978 and 1979, indicate that the township lakes are in satisfactory condition, but there was also reason to believe that the buffering ability of a few lakes is low, thus indicating susceptibility to becoming adversely acidified in a few years.

Another matter brought to the attention of Council was the report of the Atomic Energy Research Committee dealing with the study of nuclear waste disposal plans. While the study is in its early stages, the fact that Haliburton County is among those places being studied as possible suitable areas for such disposal sites is believed to be reason to be alert to this activity. Because of this wider area of concern the name of

Act. Under proposed changes to the Planning Act, "undertakings of Ontario Hydro which require a hearing before the Environmental Assessment Board will be exempted from local controls in so far as the Board rules" McDermott said. "In other words, council, regardless of what by-law 79-43 states, would have no ability to prohibit the development of such facilities should the Environmental Assessment Board determine the proposal to be environmentally sound."

Under current legislation, however, council can still appeal a decision of the Environmental Review Board before the Ontario Municipal Board, and there has been no indication as to how soon the Planning Act will be revised to remove that possibility.

McDermott said that under section 7.5 of the Planning Strategy, Hydro projects remain subject to the approval of county council even after the Environmental Assessment Act has been satisfied. Anson, Hindon and Minden council could thus voice any objections it had through county council, even if it agreed to the amendment proposed by Hydro.

Council took no formal decision on the matter, but a copy of the planner's letter has been forwarded to the municipality's solicitor, and further discussions, are expected in the near future.

OPP report

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of February 11 to February 17.

During this period the staff investigated nine reportable and five non-reportable motor vehicle accidents, and 56 general occurrences. Three breakins were reported, three cottages were found insecure, one person was charged with a snowmobile violation, five persons were charged with liquor violations, two persons were charged with impaired driving, and one person was charged with a narcotic violation.

the Committee has been changed to the Environment Committee. Reeve Jim Harrison expressed a wish to keep the public informed on these concerns and directed the Environment Committee to plan a public meeting at a time when seasonal and permanent residents would have an opportunity to attend.

Stanhope Airport Committee is moving briskly ahead with plans for a St. Patrick's dance to be held March 15. The music and the price will be right and the Committee are planning an enjoyable affair. Tickets can be obtained from Stan Moore or Derek Rolfe or any member of the Airport Committee.

This active Committee is also pressing ahead with plans for the Fly-in to be held in June and they are making an effort to bring a new and interesting attraction to Stanhope. Described as a new and a different type of flying machine, it has been seen by few people in this area and could prove to be a bit of a sensation when and if the committee are successful in their efforts to bring it to Stanhope. More information will be given to the public when plans are further advanced.
